The Children's Hub

The Children's Hub is the first point of contact for anyone who has a concern about the welfare or safety of a child or young person or thinks they may need extra help and support. When contacted, they will listen to what they are being told and the different agencies might share information with each other to try and work out whether they can help.

Best ways to support writing at home

Provide a place for your child to write

The area should be an area that is quiet and well lit. Stock the "writing centre" with supplies such as paper, pencils and crayons. You can also gather family photos and magazines in the centre that can be used as story starters.

Read, read, read The best activity to improve writing is reading. If your child reads good books, they will be a better writer. Reading exposes students to general vocabulary, word study and content-specific vocabulary. Through reading, students see a variety of authors' techniques that they can use in their own writing.

Provide writing opportunities for your child Have your child write their own thank-you notes, party invitations and letters to family. Let your child make the grocery list. Helping children make the connection between writing and the "real" world will increase an interest in writing.
